

CALL FOR CANDIDATES

BACKGROUND

The objectives of the International Law Association (ILA) are the study, clarification and development of international law, both public and private, and the furtherance of international understanding and respect for international law. The Association operates through its network of branches and international committees that work on specific subject areas of international law; and one of the main activities is the organisation of a biennial law conference. The 79th International Law Conference will take place from 23 – 27 August 2020 in Kyoto, Japan. The theme is 'Bridging for the Future' and general information about the event is available at <http://ila2020kyoto.org/>

AIM

The ILA has established a Scholarship Fund to help graduate and postgraduate students and early career professionals attend the ILA Regional or Biennial Conferences.

This is the call for candidates for the ILA Biennial Conference in Kyoto, Japan from 23 – 27 August 2020.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Candidates who satisfy the Eligibility Criteria will be selected having regard to the general objectives of the Scholarship Fund and in the light of the following, more particular, qualities demonstrated by their applications:

- (a) their aptitude for international law in the form of academic excellence, intellectual rigour, imaginative thinking, sound reasoning, careful presentation;
- (b) their potential for developing a greater understanding of and involvement with international law;
- (c) their potential for contributing to the promotion of international law and/or to the enhancement of participation in it, in particular (though not exclusively) in regions where the ILA is under-represented or where the particular ILA conference is taking place.

The candidate must:

- be enrolled in a graduate or post-graduate course doing research in international law or be an early career professional in international law (first five years);
- show a strong interest in international law (which can be demonstrated by, for example, a law school major, classes, papers and extra-curricular activities);

- show how conference participation would benefit his/her research or career in international law;
- make a case that they do not have access to other sources of funding, for instance from their home institutions;
- not have received an ILA scholarship in the past;
- comply with the Eligibility Criteria.

Applications are particularly welcomed from younger persons in regions of the world that are generally under-represented in the ILA's work.

AWARD

Full Scholarships are intended to contribute towards (but not necessarily fully cover) the Conference registration fees; travel costs; accommodation; and subsistence.

The Selection Committee may also decide to award only a Partial Scholarship.

APPLICATIONS

Applications for scholarships for the ILA Biennial Conference in Kyoto, Japan from 23-27 August 2020, must be received by 16 March 2020 (17:00 Hrs – London time).

Applicants should download and complete the application form. The completed form should be returned, together with supporting documentation, to info@ila-hq.org

Guidelines

1. Objectives of the ILA Scholarship Fund

- 1.1. To encourage the participation of “younger persons” in the work of the ILA. While no age limit defines the category of “younger persons”, the ILA aims to welcome participants of all ages interested in international law, including younger persons, thereby investing in the Association’s future.
- 1.2. To allow these younger persons to enhance their research (graduate or post graduate) or early careers through participation in ILA conferences.
- 1.3. To facilitate the participation in particular of younger persons who cannot access other sources of financial support, for instance from their own institutions.
- 1.4. To increase the visibility of the ILA by attracting persons who would not otherwise have known its work, particularly in countries where the ILA is not present. When an ILA conference takes place in a region that is generally under-represented in the ILA’s work, to enhance participation from younger persons particularly from that region.
- 1.5. To increase ILA membership, the intention being that scholarship recipients will become members of the ILA in due course.
- 1.6. To invite scholarship recipients to become “ambassadors” of the ILA in their country and attract more members, particularly younger ones.
- 1.7. To encourage the rule of law in general and respect for international law in particular, by expanding participation outside more traditional circles.
- 1.8. To make the ILA a truly universal organisation.

2. The functioning of the Selection Committee of the ILA Scholarship Fund

- 2.1 The Selection Committee for the Scholarship Fund is chaired by Mr. Bruce Mauleverer QC (ILA Patron).
- 2.2 The Selection Committee will aim to select recipients according to the calendar set out in Annex 1, using the information submitted by candidates in response to the request for documentation set out in Annex 2.
- 2.3 The Selection Committee will work electronically to avoid the expense of meeting in person.

- 2.4 A full scholarship will represent a meaningful contribution towards the Conference registration fees; reasonable travel costs; accommodation; and subsistence.
- 2.5 The Selection Committee may also decide to grant only a partial scholarship.
- 2.6 The handling and disbursement of scholarship monies will be undertaken by ILA London Headquarters.
